

1/07 RS&H CS Recognized by FTBA for Interstate Project

Projects from across the state of Florida were recognized as recipients of the Florida Transportation Builders Association (FTBA) Best in Construction Awards. In the Interstate category, the award was presented to the I-95 from Airport Road to Flagler County Line project in Volusia County for FDOT District 5 completed in 2005.

The project consisted of widening I-95 from four lanes to six lanes. Four bridges were widened to the inside and two bridges widened to the outside for longer acceleration and deceleration lines. RS&H CS provided Construction Engineering and Inspection (CEI) services under the leadership of project engineer Bill Downey and senior project engineer Tom White, who were recognized during the awards presentation along with other members of the project team. The contractor was Anderson Columbia Company, Inc.
