

RS&H CS WINS FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTION CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY WIDENING

ORLANDO, Florida – May 10, 2011 – RS&H CS, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Reynolds, Smith and Hills, Inc., has been selected by Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) District Three for the widening of SR 79 from Strickland Road to north of Mill Branch Bridge in Washington County Florida. The project is a 6 mile road widening that expands the existing facility from 2 lanes to 4 lanes and includes the widening of two low level bridges. SR 79 is used as a key hurricane evacuation route and has an estimated construction cost of $25 million. The project is expected to start late summer 2011 and go through summer 2014.

RS&H CS is expected to complete the adjacent SR 79 project to the south by mid – 2011.

About RS&H

With a tradition that began in 1941, RS&H is one of the nation's leading facilities and infrastructure consulting firms whose client-centered program structure provides value-added solutions to clients around the world. RS&H has approximately 800 associates in 34 offices nationwide and is organized into six market sector programs: Aerospace and Defense; Aviation; Corporate; Education, Health and Science; Public Infrastructure; and Transportation. Construction engineering and inspection (CEI) services are provided through its wholly owned subsidiary, Reynolds, Smith and Hills, CS Incorporated. RS&H can be reached at 1.800.741.2014 or www.rsandh.com.